To Whom It May Concern

As an Australian Representative and Grand Prix level showjumper, I am always interested in products that promote well being for all my horses, from those just starting out in training through to the elite competitors.

After speaking to Adrian, who suggested the Intelligent Ice products might be beneficial for our showjumpers, I purchased a couple of sets to try. The horses newer to training sometimes suffer from soreness as they become used to the workload and the more experienced horses often jump large fences and their joints are under constant pressure from this activity. I like to use the Intelligent Ice wraps on the horses' legs after training and showing as a preventative measure against injury and to ease any minor soreness.

I currently have a horse that I use the Intelligent Ice on every day for treatment of a soft tissue injury on the knee and his comfort and movement have improved significantly since commencing treatment with this wonderful product.

Another use I have found for the Intelligent Ice products is for myself or any of our riders, if we suffer a minor injury or a fall and want to keep riding, we can strap on the Intelligent Ice wraps and keep going, whilst the product works at speeding up the healing process.

I have no hesitation in recommending this product to all horse people as an effective product for treating their valuable equines.

Kind regards
